Showing No Fear.

If the Republican leaders are dismayed at these happenings, they are showing no indications of fear, and express equal confidence at controlling the next House.

The Insurgent movement, which manifested itself so much in the last session of Congress, does not appear to have spread with any great rapidity. From the returns a number of the States where this movement fourthese the Insurgents and Regularthe States where this movement four-ishes the Insurgents and Regulars seem to have broken about even. Kan-ms and Idaho are the two exceptions. The Insurgents in these States seem to have complete control of the situation. In Iowa, however, there is a strong fight, and where the Republican Regu-lars gained the nominations the Insur-gents have placed independent canal-dates in the field. Minnesota, Wiscon-sin and Indiana are wholly Insurgent, while the movement is strong in Wash-ington, Oregon and California. The ington, Oregon and California. The leaders feel confident, however, when the returns are counted on election day they will show a balance in favor of the Republicans, whether Regular or Insurgent.

In so-called pivotal States the campaign has been exceedingly bitter. In the election to be held Tuesday, twenty-eight States in the Union will select Governors, while thirty-six will elect State Legislatures. The Democrats will make a vigorous fight to get a majority of the State Legislatures in order to insure a majority in the Senate in the next Congress. At the present time there is a Republican majority of twenty-six in the upper house. ity of twenty-six in the upper house. Thirty-one terms expire this year and the new State Legislatures will select successors when they convene in January. Of the thirty-two whose terms expire, twenty-four are Republicans.

eting-the Republican, Democratic Independence League, Prohibition and the two Socialist parties. The first three named poll the largest number of votes, and have, of course, conducted the most strenuous campaigns, at the head of the Republican ticket is Henry L. Stimson, the United States district attorney, who gained fame through his prosecution of the sugar trust. Opposed to him as John E. Dix, the Democratic nominee, and John J. Hopper, the Independence League candidate. William R. Hearst, the founder of the league, is running for Licutendidate. William R. Hearst, the founder of the league, is running for Licutenant-Governor on this ticket.

The fight has been an extremely bitter one. Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has stumped the State for Simson, and has denounced the Democratic candidate as the representative of Tammany Hall and the Wall Street interests. Hearst has directed his firemainly against the Democratic ticket. He claims that if the Democratic party is put in power. Tammany Hall will control the State the same as it does Jis put in power, Tammany Hall will control the State the same as it does New York City.

The Democratis are not idie. They are blaming the Republicans for the ligh cost of livings, which is due, they say, to the tariff. Their main batteries, however, are leveled against Colonel Roosevelt. They claim that stimson is merely his puppet, and will be only the nominal ruler if elected to office, while Roosevelt will run the State. The Democratic press urges the defeat of Stimson on the grounds that if he is elected it will strengthen Roosevelt grip, and bring him to the front again in 1912.

There are also thirty-seven candidates for Congress to be elected in Mey British and the Republicans have twenty-five in the lower house, while the Democratis and the Republican ranks. A number of Insurgents have been nominations.

The regular Republican organization in Pennsylvania appears to have had a hard road to travel. John G. Tener, Republican candidate for Governor, has been vigorously assailed, and it was at one time reported that he intended to resign.

In this State there are also at least six tickets in the field. Besides the six tickets in the field. Besides the Republican. Democratic, Prohibition and two Socialist tickets, there is one styled the Keystone party (Independent), and another known as the Industrial party. In the Thirtieth District, Congressman John Dalzell, of Pittsburg, the ranking member of the Ways and Means Committee, is having a hard fight. He is not only being opposed by the regular Democratic nominee, but Major Black, of McKeesport, a Progressive Republican, is running on an independent ticket.

dent of a Democratic victory. The Republicans, however, are relying on the strength of their organization to pull them through. New Jersey at present has seven Republicans and three Democrats in the House.

The fight in Ohlo presents another interesting situation. Here Governor Judson Harmon, the Democratic incumbent, is being opposed by Warren G. Harding, the Republican nomines. Both men have conducted vigorous campaigns. Ohlo w'll also elect twenty-one Congressmen. In addition they will bring their fight before several States in the form of constitutional amendments. In Florida the electors will vote on prohibition "forever" in the State in the manufacture, sale, exchange or barter of all intoxicating liquors except for such purposes as medical or scientific necessities, to be effective from July 1, 1911. In Missouri, on the petition of 55,000 voters, an equally strong proposal will be submitted to the people. It is an attempt to retrieve the defeat of statutory prohibition and a prohibition amendment by the last Legislature. In Oregon the initiative has also brought up the question.

Socialist tickets have been nominated in thirty-four States—Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Jdabo, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Missouri, Montnua, Nebreska, Navada, New Jersey, New York, North Dokota, Merchania and McCluer are giving their services with the form of the first stricken homes to brighter surroundings, a Mission Kindergarten has been insugurated, under the supervision of this city, and has opened at 201 East Cary Street. The children who will benefit by this charity come from Canal Street and the regions near the penitentiary, from whose depths they seldom emerge to the brighter city. Many mothers who work during the day have begged to be allowed to enter their children, but at present the kindergarten can only accommodate eighteen, which is the number now in attendance. Treasury officials declare that one of the strong features of the postal savings bank law is the authority given the board of trustees to use the postal savings for investment in United States bonds. As the postal funds grow they can be exchanged for bonds, which become subject to the call of the Secretary of the Treasury. come subject to the call of the Secretary of the Treasury. The success that has attended the creation of postal savings banks in foreign countries convinces the board of trustees that like success will immediately follow the opening of the banks in the United States.

Owing to the fact that Congress appropriated only $100,000 to start the work, the board of trustees has been compelled to go slow in the matter of selecting the cities in which the first banks will be located. After much figuring the board decided on fifty cities, the names of which will not be given out, it is said, until everything is ready for the postmasters to begin business opening accounts with depositors. The reason for withholding this information is to stop pressure from political influence from cities that have filed applications to be selected and which will have to walt until the first returns come in, as the extension of the banks will depend on the success which follows the establishment of the new system in the fifty post-offices in question.

Washington, D. C., November 6.—The vigorous growth and progress of the country, as reflected by the records of population and harvests and the general conditions of international peace, are things for which thanksgiving is especially due for the year 10to, according to the annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation is such by President Tart today. The proclamation is as follows:

"This year of 1910 is drawing to a close. The records of population and harvests, which are the index of progress, show vigorous natural grawth and the health and prespectous well being of our communities throughout this hand, and in our possessions beyond the sens. These blessians have not descended upon us in restricted measure, but overflow and abound. They are the blessians and bounty of God.

"We continue to be at peace with the rest of the world. In all essential matters our relations with other peoples are harmonious, with an ever-growing reality of triendliness and depth of recognition of mutual dependence. It is especially to be noted that during the past year great progress has been achieved in the cause of arbitration and the peaceful settlement of international disputes.

"Naw, therefore, I, William Howard Taft, President of the United States of America, in accordance with the wise custom of the dvii magistrate since the first settlements in this land, and with the rule established from the foundation of this government, do appoint Thursday, November 24, 1010, as a day of national thanksgiving and grayer, enjoining the people upon that day to meet in their churches for the praise of America, in accordance with the write hanks to him for all his goodness and loving kinduess.

"In witness thereof, I have hereaute set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"in witness thereof, I have hereinted set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
